Morris eliminates special police

Wilmington will soon have no special police officers. Town Manager Sterling Morris has said that he will withdraw all appointment for special officers.

He said that he has been informed by Town Counsel Alan Altman that the town has no statutory authority to appoint such special officers.

Morris said that he has approximately 35 people who are listed as special officers, not including the traffic supervisors, who number about 20. Among those 35 are Highway Supt. Bob Palmer, Health Inspector Ernest Romano, Building Inspector Charles Lawrenson and Dog Officer Joseph Balestrieri. The town had granted each of them special police status, in conjunction with their jobs.

The most direct effect of the action will be on the work details at the police station. All private positions where a police officer has been needed have been first offered to Wilmington's full time officers, and then to the specials. With no specials, the work will all have to be carried out by full time officers as overtime.

The assignment of work details to the special officers has become the subject of a complaint to the Mass. Commission Against Discrimination. The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees filed the complaint for the traffic supervisors, charging that the town denied them the opportunity for outside work details and extra work. The union took the town to task for maintaining two lists of special officers, male and female, and offering the extra work to the females only after it had been offered to the males.

Traffic supervisors take action against town

The union representing the town's traffic supervisors has initiated three actions against the Town of Wilmington.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) took the action after the Wilmington town meeting voted not to fund the traffic supervisors for the 1979-1980 fiscal year.

One of the actions is a complaint of prohibited practice, made to the Massachusetts Labor Relations Commission. The summary of the charge is that the Finance Committee recommended and the town meeting voted to delete all monies for the traffic supervisors, and to add a lesser sum for contractual services of crossing guards at a minimum wage. In its complaint the union charges that such practice is prohibited by Chapter 150E, Section 10 (a), 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6, of the General Laws.

A second action concerns the availability of work details. As special police officers, the women traffic supervisors have been eligible to perform details and outside work. These details, though, are assigned first to the full time officers. Then they are offered to the male special officers, then to the female special officers.

The union therefore filed eight complaints with the Mass. Commission Against Discrimination, on behalf of eight traffic supervisors. The complaints are for the denial of opportunity to work outside details and extra work.

The eight women for whom the complaints were filed are Marilyn Fuller, Carole Bailey, Patricia Johnson, Cecile Marini, Margaret Stewart, Mary Harvey, Mary Lynch, and Raffaella Zaccagnini.

The third action filed by the union is a petition to the state Dept. of Labor and Industries for a fact-finding.

The fact-finding process is the second step in labor negotiations. Negotiations between the traffic supervisors and the town broke down last year.

Left behind

The gasoline crisis story of the week concerns some young men who spent Sunday night in the lockup at the Wilmington police station. No, they weren't caught stealing gas. They were just found asleep in the back seat of a car.

The driver and another passenger of the car were trying to steal gasoline out of a truck at Ski Haus on Lowell Street about 10 p.m. Sunday. They fled on foot, and the owner of the truck trapped the sleeping two in the car. Wilmington police responded, and took the pair into protective custody. They were identified as being from Hartford, Connecticut.

Police then staked out the car, but the owner did not return. So they had it towed.

The pair who had been sleeping in the car ended up sleeping in cells at the police station. No charges were filed, and they were released at 7 a.m. Monday.

Rude awakening

It turned out that they weren't criminals, but the two young men found sleeping in a car at Ski Haus on Sunday night both were frisked and then locked up in protective custody. Officer Robert Spencer is shown frisking one of the men.

Flood insurance study to be reviewed in meeting

A public meeting will be held next week to review the draft of a flood insurance study produced during the past year.

The study, done by the Anderson Nichols Co., for the Federal Emergency Management Agency, includes several pages of data, charts and maps, showing flood levels in Wilmington's history.

The purpose of the study is to convert Wilmington to the regular program of flood insurance by the Federal Insurance Administration. A secondary purpose will be as an aid in local planning.

The flood insurance program is designed by the federal government, but is sold by private insurance companies. Many banks require flood insurance on a house for which they hold the mortgage, if the house is within a flood plain area, as are many homes in Wilmington.

The meeting will be at the Town Hall on Tuesday, July 10 at 2:00 p.m. Representatives of the Federal Emergency Management Agency will be present, along with local officials. The draft of the study is available for public inspection at the town manager's office, during business hours.

Sgt. Bernard Nally

Circus art on display

A fascinating collection of circus lithographs and posters will be on display in the conference room of the Wilmington Memorial Library from Thursday, July 5 through Thursday, July 12.

On loan to the Eastern Massachusetts Library System from the Circus World Museum, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, the collection consists of 22 original one-sheet circus lithographs and posters. Additional small exhibits of old circus programs and passes borrowed directly from the Circus Museum by the Memorial Library will be featured in the glass cases located at the front entrance to the library and on the front landing outside the Children's Room. Circus related books from the library's collection which are on display with the exhibit will be available for borrowing.

No lieutenant, yet

Wilmington has a new chief of police, but the position of lieutenant is still vacant. A John Imbimbo retired from the position last year, and the sergeants of the department have been rotating the duties ever since.

Earlier this year, several of the sergeants took the exam for the lieutenant's position. The scores have come back to the candidates, but have not been officially announced.

Unofficially, there were only two men who passed the exam, and one of them, Bobby Stewart, has since been named chief of police. The other man is Sgt. Bernard Nally, who was also the only man besides Stewart to pass the chief's exam.

Nally hasn't run out to buy the bars for his uniform yet, but he is obviously pleased with the results of the exam. He was promoted to sergeant in March, 1977.

Pierce hospitalized again

For the second time this year, Wilmington Superintendent of Schools Walter Pierce has been hospitalized for heart problems.

Pierce reported to Winchester

Hospital on Thursday morning for some tests, and was subsequently admitted. On Monday, he was transferred to the Tufts New England Medical Center, in Boston.

Arnold Blake

Blake on Planning Board

A new member has been appointed to the Wilmington Planning Board, a man who is no stranger to town government. He is Arnold Blake, a longtime resident of Middlesex Avenue. Blake served for many years on the Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners.

Silver Lake section next for sewer construction

The next section of the new Wilmington sewer to be tackled by the Board of Sewer and Water Commissioners will encompass the area around Silver Lake, and up Main Street to the Tewksbury line. They are to begin discussing the construction of that part, which will be section 4, on Thursday, July 12.

Every street in the Silver Lake area, from Rocco's to the Tewksbury line will have sewers, when the job is finished. This will include Grove

Avenue and all streets off that road, Lake Street and all streets off that road, and streets off both sides of Main Street, not including any part of Tewksbury. Construction is probably going to start sometime in the latter part of the summer, and will continue through to a finish.

The commissioners, while preparing to embark on the new sewer work, are also trying to close out the work on the previous two segments, built by Pacella Bros.,

Bonds sold for water treatment plant

The Wilmington board of selectmen, last week, voted to apply the proceeds of a $2,735,000 General Obligation Bond sale to the construction of the water treatment plant, planned for the Butters Row area. The plant was voted in the town meeting of a year ago.

The First National Bank of Boston and three associates made the winning bid for the bonds, on June 21. Three bids were received. First National's bid was at the rate of 5.25 interest.

The net interest rate to the town will be 5.2361, after deducting the premium bid of 100.12999. The issue is payable over a period of one to 18 years.

Wilmington is rated "Aa" by Moody's Investor Service, a nationally recognized credit rating service. This rate compares favorably with the average of interest rates received in municipal issues during the previous week, as reported in The Bond Buyer Index. The rate was reported on June 15 as being 6.09.

The bond bids were opened by the town treasurer, Rachel Burns. Mrs. Burns was accompanied by Town Manager Sterling Morris, and by the chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Rocco V. DePasquale.

Parish meeting with Bishop Ruocco

A parish meeting will be held on Sunday, July 8 at 7 p.m. in Villanova Hall.

Bishop Ruocco, Regional Bishop will preside at the meeting which will be conducted by the Rev. Gilbert S. Phinn of the Personnel Board. This meeting is open to all parishioners.

Such meetings are held when the Pastorate becomes vacant by reason of death, retirement, resignation, etc. The topics considered will deal with the spiritual, temporal and educational life of St. Thomas. The purpose is to gain insight into the needs of the Parish so that the proper leadership may be given.

It is taught that the Church is the people and here is an opportunity to use this right. Those in attendance will be able to express their views as to what is needed or necessary to the Parish. All are urged to make every effort to attend.

Tewksbury fireworks start at 10 pm

The grand finale of the Fourth of July celebration this year is to be a mammoth display of fireworks, at the Livingston Street playground in Tewksbury. It is due to start at 10 p.m.

Included in the program will be 191 shells, in a timed sequence. Each shell, when breaking, is to release smaller shells which will break forth illuminating the sky with thousands of vividly colored stars. The heavy detonating sounds will grow louder and heavier, and will end in a blinding cannonade. The shells in this particular program are to be nine and 12 inch, and will be fired from 70 mortars.

Included in this display will be one ground set piece, which will display Old Glory.

Individual shells to be fired will be multicolored, noise making aerial shells. At the start 30 shells are to be discharged in a series of flights. This will include 15 nine inch shells and 15 twelve inch shells.

Eighty shells are to be fired during the evening's program, 20 of them nine inch shells, and others up to 18 inch shells.

The displays from the 80 shells will be multi-varied and will include whistles, serpents, peony, thunder and stars, waterfalls, pill box effects, heavy reports, wide spread orientals, surprise shells, comets, tails and tracers.

Chairman of the Tewksbury Patriotic Activities Committee is John Rosano. Others in the committee include Matt McGillick, Mary Novo, Dick Sutherby and Louis Madden.

Not a dry eye!!

There wasn't a dry eye to be seen when organist Ken Wilson of Andover Street, Wilmington wound down the grand finale of his 25th concert at Hammond Castle, Gloucester last Saturday night.

Mr. Wilson drew his Summer Pop Concert to a close with his own "Salute to our Country. The salute, a medley of patriotic music which he arranged himself was comprised of songs that included all branches of the armed forces and ended with Irving Berlin's own favorite...God Bless America.

At one point during his rendition of God Bless America, Mr. Wilson played an entire chorus on the base pedals while his hands rested on the bench beside him.

The chances are awfully good that ships 10 miles at sea cut their engines to listen to Mr. Wilson's music - almost too beautiful for comprehension. The towers of the castle were still quaking under the resounding chords as the weeping, applauding, shouting, whistling, foot-stomping audience rose to its feet and called one of the world's greatest musicians back for three encores which he graciously...and humbly delivered.

Finish with 16-1 record

Twins Minor League champs

The Twins are Tewksbury's Minor League champs, rolling to a 16-1 record as coach Bill Perrin's boys compiled an 8-1 mark over the first half of the season before marching to an 8-0 second half to clinch the title.

The Twins were sparked by the offensive firepower supplied by Bobby Long who led the team with a .750 bat mark to go along with his 42 runs scored, 28 RBI's and five triples.

Next in line for the champs was Dave Gammon with his .730 average, team high six homers, 11 doubles and 39 RBI's to share the club leadership in that category with Scott Niles.

Niles clubbed away for a robust .655 average while whacking five homers and five doubles that helped him to his 39 runs batted in.

Jim Hollis was a consistent hitter all spring for Perrin, batting .658 with seven triples and 27 RBI's.

Jim Barrasso was another hitter who combined average with power for the champs, hitting .622 with five round trippers and 26 runs batted in.

Other top stickmen for the Twins were Mike Autiello (.587-36 RBI's), Frank Aiesi (.500-18 RBI's), Brad Homola (.500), Jimmy Green (.471-10 RBI's), Mike Hennessy (.450), Mark Aylward (.450), Tom Gallella (.450-13 RBI's), Ron Perrin (.400-11 RBI's) and Doub Mann (.316).

A team doesn't win a championship without solid pitching and the Twins got good mound work from Autiello (5-1, 0.32), Gammon (6-0, 0.41), Barrasso (4-0, 0.50) and Long (1-0, 0.57).

Gallella, Aylward, Homola, Niles, Aiesi and Mann also saw some mound duty for the Twins this spring. Autiello struck out 47 and walked 41 while Gammon whiffed 34 while walking 18 to post the best strikeouts to walks ratio on the club.

As a team the Twins batted .565, their best average since 1975 when the club hit .544. The champs' pitching staff compiled an excellent 1.37 E.R.A. - Cooke

Alley Cats win fourth title

The Alley Cats clinched their fourth consecutive Wilmington Girls Softball Little League championship last week as coach Norma MacDonald's crew edged the Swingers who finished second for the second straight season.

Coach Frank Stone's Kneesocks came on strong to share second place with the Swingers.

The Kneesocks and the Swingers saw their bids for a three way tie fall short late in the season when the Munchkins upset the Kneesocks and the Swingers were topped by the Red Barons.

Swingers 11-Kneesocks 7

Yvonne Lesko and Susan Carpenter combined to pitch the Kneesocks right out of their shot at a first place tie. Carpenter led the attack with a home run and defensively she helped turn a double play. Susan also chipped in with three RBI's.

Other hot bats were wielded by Maureen Fuller (four RBI's), Judy Seville (two RBI's) and Stacy Sargent with one run batted in.

The Swingers jumped out to a 10-1 lead before Kim Mytych's two run homer sparked a Kneesock comeback. Kellie Cavanaugh, Lynne Flaherty, Kim Smith, Becky Batten, Cara Powers, Debbie Buckley, Lori Tarantino and Chris Bachand all played fine defensive games.

The next bout for the talented

McNally? "Let's just say we've got something on the fire," offered his father Bernie Monday. McNally, who helped sell out the Civic Center Friday, is a very hot fighter at the moment with a promising future.

Recs top Andover, Billerica

Wilmington's Junior Recs softball girls opened their season last week with a pair of impressive wins over Andover and the Billerica Elks. The locals ripped through Andover in the Town Park opener 20-6 before Lisa Madden fired a one-hitter at Billerica in a 2-0 Wilmington win.

Thursday, June 28- Wilmington 2-Billerica Elks 0. Madden went the seven inning distance, walking three and striking out four as her mates struck for two runs in the top of the seventh to snap a brilliant pitching dual.

Megan Donnelly led off the seventh inning with steals of second and third after drawing a walk and eventually scored on Diane Doyle's line single to left. Doyle later scored to give Madden her insurance run.

A Billerica scoring threat was snuffed when Brenda Clark made a super catch and threw to first to double up the Elks runner.

Wilmington rapped four hits off losing pitcher Dornan, who walked one and fanned eight.

Tuesday, June 26- Wilmington 20-Andover 6. Brenda Baker pitched a complete game for Wilmington, walking two, fanning five and surrendering five hits, but she had plenty of bat support from her mates along the way.

An eight run second inning sent the Recs up 12-1 as Megan Donnelly's grand slam homer powered the 16 hit attack. Megan drove home five runs and Diane Doyle chipped in with four RBI's.

Tewksbury Little League

Burzlaff, Orioles stun Yanks

Kraigh Burzlaff rapped a single to leftfield and scored on errors to give the Orioles a 6-5 victory over the Yankees in eight innings last week in Tewksbury Little League action.

The Yankees took the lead and held on until the sixth inning when Burzlaff and Mike Bosia rammed doubles to score the tying run and send the game into extra innings.

After a scoreless seventh frame, the Yanks went to bat again and were in perfect scoring position with runners on second and third with one out, but Bazzinotti popped out to the pitcher and the next batter struck out to end the threat.

The first Oriole batter in the eighth struck out and Todd Boudreau was robbed of a home run as his line drive heading over the right field fence was stabbed by Bazzinotti for the second out.

Kraigh had two strikes on him when he doubled to leftfield. He stretched his single into a two bagger when the throw went into rightfield, sending him to third. The ensuing throw went to third, but by that time Burzlaff was already on his way home with the winning run.

Paul Laurin started for the Orioles, giving up five hits, and fanning eight. Mike Bosia took over in relief and pocketed the win, striking out six and allowing one walk.

Kraig Burzlaff went three for four, including a double, and Mike Bosia went three four with a double and two RBI's. Paul Laurin went three for four including a double and a home run in the fourth inning to go along with two RBI's. Steve Synan had a key hit and an RBI.

Eric Murray started on the Yankee mound, striking out seven and walking three in his five innings. He was relieved by Ed Krszesinski who struck out four and gave up one walk in his three innings.

J. Sordillo went three for four with an RBI and Jones went two for three. Ed Krszesinski had a solid hit and Greg Kobelski added a key safety. Kenny Krugh tripled with an RBI and Eric Murray and Bazzinotti each had clutch hits.

Orioles 3-Angels 0

The Orioles topped the Angels 3-0, in a pitchers' duel last week. Paul Laurin started, giving up two hits and striking out five before being relieved by Scott Hillson who gave up two hits, struck out three and walked two.

Rob LaFortune was on the Angels' mound, firing a three-hitter and allowing one earned run.

Steve Synan, Ricky Sweeney and Robert Stevens each had solid hits with Mike Irvine chipping in with an RBI.

The Orioles had an unusual double play. The Angels had a runner on first base when a bunt pop fly was caught by first baseman Steve Synan. Third baseman Mike Irvine fled to Synan's aid thinking he was hurt, took the ball out of his glove and threw to second baseman Burzlaff who covered first for the double play.

Ken Mackey belted a double for the Angels while McKay, Robbie Manke and Robbie LaFortune each contributed a solid hit.

Wilmington men's softball league

Rocco's, Aslanis widen gaps

Rocco's and Aslanis Fisheries have opened up gaps in the Wilmington Men's Softball League standings after last week's action that culminated with Sunday night's play highlighted by Rocco's 8-7 win over still winless Dymographics.

Dymo (0-14), in last place in the National Division, gave the American Division leaders a scare, taking a 7-6 lead into the bottom of the seventh inning.

Ken Sarchione ended Dymo's shot at a major upset when he drilled a two run single that plated the winning runs. Doug Harrison helped the Rocco cause with three hits while Paul Savoie wielded the big stick for Dymo with two hits and three RBI's.

Wally Neal was the winning pitcher and Bob Arsenault was the tough luck loser for Dymo. Each club scored three runs in the first inning before Dymo took a 6-3 lead after three frames. Rocco's charged back with two runs in the bottom of the fourth and a run in the fifth that cut the Dymo lead to 7-6.

In other games Sunday night, D&D Gulf, still hanging on to second place in the America Division, nipped Doyle's Hardware 6-5; Mac's got by Dunkirk Express 4-3; and North Wilmington Shell blasted Compugraphic 14-1.

Bernie Wagstaff hurled the win over Tom Bromander in the Gulf victory as Blaise MacDougall rapped four hits and drove in the winning run in the bottom of the fourth inning. Pete Swan chipped in with two hits for the winners.

Barry Hanson led the Doyle's comeback with two hits as the hardware gang scored three runs in the third inning to cut the Gulf lead to 5-4.

Thursday, June 28 - Dunkirk Express 8-Masonic Gang 5...Fred Olshaw pounded a triple and a home run for four RBI's and winning pitcher Ted Wicks rapped four hits to hand Herb Wallace the loss.

North Wilmington Shell 11-Shawsheen Plumbing 6...Jack Gearty (four hits) and Dave Carrozza (three hits) manned the Shell attack in support of pitcher Rusty Heubner who was touched up for two hits apiece by Bob Stewart, Dave Stewart and Jim Fairweather. Chris Nee was the losing hurler.

Rocco's 11- Mac's 10...Rocco's appeared ready to coast to a win with a six run third inning to take a 6-4 lead, but the scrappy Mac's club battled back to take the game into the 10th inning before losing on Bill Harrison's double that drove home the winning run.

Harrison also had a single for the winners who were helped out by the big bat of Snooky Lynch who clubbed a single and a triple.

Joe and Ed Woods each rapped three hits for Mac's as Wally Neal pitched the win over Tom Woods.

Wednesday, June 27 - Denim Depot 13-Aslanis Fisheries 11...In the week's upset Denim Depot stunned the National leaders with Mike Hays' seventh inning grand slam doing the bulk of the damage.

Hays rapped four hits while teammates Nino Trimarchi and Bob Crescenzo each chipped in with three. Bob Hogg and Bob Butters combined to rough up winning hurler Ron Grasso for nine hits. Dave Newhouse took the loss for Aslanis.

Doyle's Hardware 14-Realty World 13...Bill Blaisdell fueled Doyle's slugfest win with four hits and mates Bob Cheney, John Smith and winning pitcher Kris Hinman each rapped three.

Losing hurler Jamie Hachey banded three hits for Realty World and Paul Trickett chipped in with two safeties.

Tuesday, June 25 - Compugraphic 11-McNamara Tire 9...Don Inman clubbed two triples and drove home four runs and Rick Koenig belted a home run in support of winning pitcher Walt Welding who bested Bob Monteiro.

Dear Larz:

As the Wilmington representative at the 1979 Boys' State Conference, I owe great thanks to American Legion Post 136 of Wilmington for choosing me to attend and for their sponsorship.

The Conference, which was held this year at Nichols College in Dudley, was a great success, with 512 boys participating and several dozen former Boys' Staters and American Legion members acting as counselors.

Between June 16 and 23 the participants ran complete mock governments, both local and state, and went through the process of electing government officials. Each participant also chose between attending a law mini-course or a government mini-course which were provided for their own benefit.

Among the men who ran this year's Boys State were Director Eugene Biagi, Attorney Harvey Foreman, and Boston City Councillor Larry DiCara. These men should be given great credit for a job well done.

Again, Larz, great thanks to Post 136, especially to Mr. Beaton, and to all who made this inspiring experience possible.

Sincerely,
Michael L. Spence

Annual picnic

The annual senior citizen picnic, through the generosity of St. Dorothy's Parish, will be held on the church grounds, Sunday afternoon, July 15. Last year this picnic was well attended.

Sundays are lonely for many seniors. Those who know of an elderly person who has no means of transportation, could, perhaps double-up.

Seniors must sign up for the picnic at the Drop-in Center, as Father McAndrews would like to know how many will be attending. Seniors are advised to take along a folding chair.

Chicken barbecue
The Council on Aging will also sponsor a picnic for seniors at the Billerica Elks on Wednesday, July 25. The picnic will consist of a meal of barbecued chicken, potato salad, coleslaw, corn, watermelon and coffee and buns. The picnic will start at 10:30 a.m. There will be games and other recreation before the meal which will be served at noon. Sign up for this picnic at the Drop-in Center.

Hot lunch program
The hot lunch program has been resumed for the summer months. Meals will be served at the Shawsheen School, Wilmington. Reservations must be made a day in advance. Call the Drop-in Center before noon.

Canes needed
Anyone having a cane that is not in use is urged to donate it to the Drop-in Center. Many calls are received there from disabled seniors. Most of them can be taken care of, but there is only cane at the present time and that is out on loan.

Whist party

The first whist party of the month will be held on Monday, July 9, beginning at 1:00 p.m. The arts and crafts committee will host the party.

Hike or Bike for health
Take a walk for your health. Burn off up to 300 calories per hour walking at three-miles per hour. Or, bike and burn off 420 calories per hour. Arrangements for biking dates will be made if there is enough response. Those interested should call the Drop-in Center and leave their name (657-7596).

Senior preferred

The Center has received an urgent call from a man with two children, 12 and eight-years-old. He has no one to leave them with while he is at work. He would like someone who would like to live in or go in on a daily basis from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. A senior citizen is preferred. The salary is negotiable. Call the Center if interested.
